DETECTION OF FORGERY.

In the legal reports of the London Times of March 23, we find a case efore the Liver-pool Civil Court, in which a forgery was detected in a singular manner by the presid-their mother's estate, and in evidence of which an I O U, dated March 28th, 1838. The richest PHOSPHATIC GUANO known. purporting to be drawn by the defendant in favor of the plaintiff, was produced in Court. Article in Washington, Georgetown, and Alexan-Says the report of the Times:

The defendant's account was that on the 12th of April, 1839, a final settlement was come to, and the defendant paid the plaintiff hold estate, valued at 1401., and that the plaintiff then signed a receipt in discharge of all demands, which was witnessed by their sister and a witness named Hanson. The defendant denied that the IOU was signed by him, or that he knew anything about it: and the plaintiff denied that he ever signed such a receipt in discharge of all demands as that proved. In support of the plaintiff's case five receipts or acknowledgements of the payments in interest by the defendant were put in evidence by the plaintiff—one of them in 1856, and he called his daughter to prove that she was present when one of these payments was made. The defendant swore that these receipts were forgeries, and that he had never made any such payments.

His Lordship, in summing up, said, on one side or the other there must be deliberate perjury. His lordship then, taking up the I O U, and holding it to the light, said he examined this document for the first time, as he presumed there was no objection to it, the counsel for the defendant having examined it. The document bore date "1838," but he saw that the water-mark on the paper bore date "1850." Lest he should be mistaken, he would ask the Jury to look at it.

The jury said the water-mark was "1850," and one of the jury said the paper was blue wove, and such paper was not invented 20 years ago. His Lordship said there was another objection; the plaintiff was a day laberor and the defendant a farmer, who could pay.— How was it that this I OU had been in the needy creditor's possession for 21 years with-out being enforced? It was an odd story.— An examination of the receipts for interest put in, showed them to be all written at one time with one pen and with the same ink .-Again, the receipts were not in the possession of the man who had paid the money, but of the man who had received it. Still further, the document purported to be an acknowledgment that £210 were due; but a letter admitted to be in the handwriting of the plaintiff was in evidence dated 1844, in which the plaintiff demanded £136 11s 6d as due to him. This was not reconcileable with the genuineness of the IOU. If the jury thought the IOU a forgery, the plaintiff could not recover; and if genaine still the plaintiff could not recover, because of the receipt in full of all demands subsequently given, unless they believed that to be a forgery.

The jury almost immediately found a verdict for the defendant.

ROMANCE AT PARIS.

One of those romances which may occur ly been made known. A wealthy gentleman of Liverpool sent his son to Paris for general And for a like array of eminant authority, proimprovement, and placed him under the fostering care of a Yorkshire parson. The parson and his pupil stopped at the Hotel du Louvre: in a day or two the clerical mentor found his green young Tellemachus a bore, and a great hindrance to his private sports. So he was accustomed to send the youth to walk in the Arcades of the Rue de Rivoli, while he himself enjoyed life in his own way. The boy at first inclined to rebel against this dull style of promenade, soon began to devel-ope a very cheering fondness for it, and the tutor's heart was gladdened thereby. Things went on this way very pleasantly for a time, till by some means the parson was informed that his young charge was about to contract a matrimonial alliance with a young glovebags, analysing over 80 per cent. Bone Phosphate

The report was but too true; the green young man from Liver-pool, becoming enamored of the fair vender of gloves, had offered her marriage, and had committed his offers to paper, with all the reck-lessness of hot youth. The fiancee was perfectly ready to give up her claim on her intended husband's hand for 25,000 francs, and this sum she will probably receive. Meanwhile her shop is thronged with curious visiters, and

SOMBRERO GUANO. IN calling the atsention of the public to this valuable and recently discovered deposit of this fertilizing article, we will merely state, that like all other phosphatic GUANOS, its most valuable constituent is phosphoric acid, or bone phosphate of lime; and that its mercantile value, as compared with other GUANOS of its kind, may be easily determined by the amount of phosphoric acid or bone phosphate of lime it contains. In order, therefore, to give the public a thorough knowledge of what SOMBRERO GUANO does contain, we beg to refer to the following list of eminent chemists in different parts of the world, who have analyzed different cargoes, from average samples taken by themselves from the cargoes just as they arrive from the island, without drying or selection of specimens for analyzation. Each analysis will be exhibited, if required, under the original signature of each chemist named:

Of phosphoric acid, estimated as equivalent to phosphate of lime, it is found to contain—by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.

This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 16th of March 1854, since which time over five thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thousands and customers, that he is again merous friends and customers, that he is again seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness.
